

Charlene attended Northeast High School and later worked at Marion Laboratories in Kansas City. One of her favorite stories was attending a dinner at Ewing and Marion Kauffman's house and getting lost while trying to find a typewriter to write up a 'deal' for Mr. Kauffman.

Later in her life, she attended Avilla University and graduated with her Bachelors of Arts in Special Education. She taught until her retirement at Lamar High School, Lamar, MO. Charlene always enjoyed meeting her former students while out in the community, proud of their achievements. Charlene was active with Meals on Wheels and enjoyed her walks with her friend Pat, and attending Tai Chi classes.
